Safety & care

Our centres are accredited by the British Council in the UK and ACCET in the USA. Our centres are subject to rigorous inspections by these bodies to ensure the highest level of quality, safety, and care.

Student welfare and safety are always our top priorities at Kings Young Learners. We understand and acknowledge the trust that you put in us when you send your child to the UK or to the USA to study. We are their family away from home. Our locations have all been selected for their safe and secure environments, and we offer only the highest levels of supervision. The presence of our welfare managers, night supervisors, hall managers and/or house parents supports the safety and comfort of your child whilst they are in our care.

To ensure students are safe at all times, the following measures are in place:

- Students are all issued with ID cards and wristbands with emergency contact information.
- A 24-hour emergency phone service for students, staff and parents is in place.
- Child safeguarding is an integral part of staff training. We have strict recruitment procedures, and all staff are hired subject to suitable references and background checks.
- Homestay providers and residence supervisors are responsible for students at their accommodation and ensure that curfews are followed every night.
- At the Residential Summer Centres House Parents or Night Supervisors monitor the halls of residence throughout the night-time period.
- Individual students at the Residential Summer Centres are allocated a staff member to act as their guardian during their stay. They will have a daily meeting throughout their stay.
- Teachers take attendance registers at the start of every lesson and registers are taken on activities and excursions.
- There is a designated Welfare Manager at each of our locations.
- Staff to student ratios are excellent at approximately 1:6.
